Introduction

Welcome aboard!! I know! You were expecting Jacques Cousteau, Magellan, Christopher Columbus or even Jack Sparrow? I am very sorry to disappoint. I am Tom Guiney and I created Tom Cruises.

Cruising is many things to many people. And, there are many changes ongoing within the cruise line industry. At this time, it is not my intention to write about any particular port, cruise line, cruise ship or any particular associated business. I may, in the future, write in my Blog of my experiences aboard ship as such cruises are taken. I am also not affiliated with any cruise line or associated business and receive no compensation at this time. The information provided is based on my personal observations and opinions. If these conditions change in the future, an edit to this post will be made. None of the information within has been AI generated.

My focus and basis for creating this Guide and website is to assist and guide passengers both new and experienced cruisers through the process of getting onboard your ship, 'Booking to Boarding'. The information, and in particular that found in my 'Booking to Boarding' Guide (20 pages) for purchase online contains the basis upon which you will have a greater awareness and confidence in sailing aboard ship. As an engineer, I like information and detail. So, although you may find the information to be not particularly relevant to you, it provides you with a knowledge of the Cruise Line Industry and the relationship and role in the Maritime Industry.
